Operational empowerment

The key to effective project control is access to accurate information.

Our AEC solutions offer your organisation a total operational and financial management system, empowering your Project Managers with a single source of real time project performance information which enables them to deliver projects successfully.

Our AEC Solution offers:

- Anywhere anytime access to project data
- Integrated financial visibility and project management
- Complete project collaboration
- Resource optimisation
- Project lifecycle management
- Knowledge management

User-defined reports extract data from existing IT systems and deliver it via an intuitive web browser, meaning you can continue to capitalise on your existing IT investment.

With RedSky IT AEC solutions, Project Managers can make business critical decisions based on accurate project and financial information.

Progression AEC solution components

Project and Contract Management	Integrated project ledger presents analysis of progress, time/costs, and actuals against budget, in a format familiar to project professionals. Data can be broken down by job, work stage and activity, with full ‘drill down’ from any level down to individual transactions
Electronic Time Capture	Staff record their time in a Windows-based ‘spreadsheet’ type application and submit electronically via LAN, WAN or internet
Project Forecast and Monitoring (ProForM)	Fully integrated estimating, budgeting, forecasting and monitoring tool enables departmental and corporate reporting for project management, resource allocation and cashflow analysis
Financial Suite	A comprehensive financial suite with all the benefits of full integration to project based operational software
Project Invoicing	All postings in Project Ledger are immediately available to produce invoices, which can be raised at job or project level and split by client if required

“We were already aware of RedSky IT and were impressed with their market pedigree. Many of the top practices in the industry were already using RedSky IT software and so we were reassured that it was a proven solution.”

Content & Document Management for AEC

Informate is an award-winning content management system that can help you manage information in a highly efficient and cost-effective manner via a public website, extranet or company intranet.

Informate gives you total control over the placing, sending and receiving of a wide range of information, including email, network files, external websites and business applications, thus greatly enhancing Knowledge Management within your organisation.

Management information from Progression AEC such as commitment accounting, expense capture and corporate memory is accessible at any level of detail, “sliced” and presented as required - traditionally or graphically.

Informate delivers enterprise content management, organisation/customer relationship management, task management and workflow, and is an access portal to release structured information from external systems through one easy-to-use interface.
