

Top five consultants Gardiner & Theobald gear up to more effectively manage growth

Tom Gillies
Gardiner & Theobald

Our position in the professional services sector of Construction has improved after the number four ranked surveying practice Gardiner & Theobald chose us as their core line of business IT partner. Gardiner & Theobald will implement the well established ProgressionAEC project accounting solution to manage projects across the globe, which will help the firm achieve future growth objectives.

Gardiner & Theobald was founded in 1840 and over the years has participated in the development of some of the UK's landmark buildings including the British Museum, the Victoria and Albert Museum, the Stock Exchange, Covent Garden Market and New Scotland Yard. Today, the company employs almost 900 people in the UK and its clients are serviced via a network of over 100 offices in almost 50 countries through its association with Levett & Bailey (Hong Kong & China) and Rider Hunt (Asia Pacific).

Tom Gillies, Group Financial Controller at Gardiner & Theobald advises: "We have well defined plans to progress the business in the future and we were seeking a solution that would enable us to effectively manage growth and that was capable of catering for our requirements today and in the future. In the event that we move from the status of a classic partnership to a Limited Liability Partnership, we will need to be in a position to meet the relevant reporting requirements and the Ramesys solution will facilitate this."

Stuart Nutbeen Key Account Director at Ramesys says: "Gardiner & Theobald is a significant win for us as it positions us as a market leader. We now have 12 out of the Top 50 consultants using our project solutions with over 40,000 construction professionals accessing our software on a daily basis"